LOUISVILLE:

FRIDAY, AUGUST 12, 1859.

Reading Matter on Every Page.

Perpetual Lease.

In an article of yesterday we alluded to the custom in other cities of selling lots for a rent-chARGE rather than for the gross value. We wish now to call the attention of property owners more particularly to our suggestion.

There are thousands of feet of uninproved ground in portions of our city suitable for residence and adapted to business. Main, Market, Jefferson, Green, Water, Chestnut, Broadway, together with some fifteen or twenty of the cross streets, present innumerable vacant lots almost in the very heart of the city. This ground is lying idle, awaiting the owners with taxes, while it rests as an incubus upon the prosperity and growth of the city.

There are hundreds of persons in Louisville, and hundreds who would like to come here, who are not able to buy those vacant lots and put houses upon them, either for residences or for business purposes. A business lot of twenty feet anywhere in a desirable part of the city, on the streets named, would cost from one to twenty thousand dollars, while a lot for a dwelling house would cost from five hundred to ten thousand dollars. The smallest sums named is too much ready money to be raised by the poor, and the largest sums could not easily be spared out of the business capital of our mechanics and manufacturers.

The usual practice is to require property when sold here one-third cash, and the balance in one and two years of interest. This would make the purchaser of a $500 lot pay $160 cash, $175 at the end of the first year, and $186 at the end of the second. If the lot were $1,000 the payments would be $333 cash, $353 cash at the end of the first year, and $373 cash at the end of the second. These payments are too heavy for a poor man who saves from his daily earnings a mere pittance. Such payments prevent him from buying a lot until old age comes upon him, and deprives him of his greatest wealth as a citizen. It takes him near a life-time to make clear money enough to buy his lot, to say nothing of sufficient savings to erect a house after the lot is purchased and paid for.

And if we turn from the poor man to the wealthy merchant and manufacturer, but few even of these classes can spare money enough from their business to pay ten or twenty thousand dollars for a lot, and then erect a suitable building upon it. Their payments, according to custom here, would be, for the $10,000 lot, $3,333 cash, $3,553 cash at the end of the first year, and $3,753 cash at the end of the second. For a $20,000 lot they would have to pay $6,666 cash, $6,756 cash at the end of the first year, and $6,846 cash at the end of the second year. These payments are large, when, fire, ten, fifteen, or even twenty thousand dollars more must come out of their business to build a residence or business house on the lot.

Now, the plan we suggest avoids these heavy payments for ground. We propose that our property holders shall inaugurate the custom of other cities, and sell their vacant lots for a rent-chARGE instead of the value in gross. The process is simple and will work well here as it has in other places. It has built up some of our greatest cities, and will help up Louisville if it is generally adopted. Let us advise you that it would work in practice and see if all will not agree with us in the very thing we want.

The owner of a lot, for example, values it at $500 or $1,000, or $20,000. Instead, however, of the purchaser paying him a third cash, and the balance in one and two years, he binds himself and gives the lot, as security, that there shall be paid for it $70, $80, $90 or $1,000 per year forever. In other words, the purchaser pays six per cent. on the value of the lot for all time, and these payments are made an annual or semi-annual rent charge upon the ground. The payments of the purchaser are thereby made easy, and the owner that, according to the present custom here, would go for the payment of the lot, can be used for building a house or in the prosperous conduct of business.

This plan would enable many persons to buy lots, who, under the present system, have not the ready money to purchase, and if it were adopted many of the lots now lying idle in the city would be sold at a profit. And such is the case, because it is the most economical way to buy a lot.

MOD LAW IN OLDHAM COUNTY—A MAN HUNG—TRIBAL EXCITEMENT.

We call attention to a letter in another part of our paper, giving an account of the hanging of the son of F. Seine, for murdering the Fish family, which occurred in the same neighborhood whereupon the people have arisen in mass, captured, and are now in the act of hanging Seine, without due trial or legal offset against the said note.

JOHN GUNNELL & CO.

Our neighbor, W. W. Talbot, 69 Third street, is selling his large stock of Children's Buggies and Cabs at cost for cash, only in order to reduce stock. Also two hundred Willow Cabs, some time since, near the town of Westport, on the Ohio river; who are doubtless guilty of the crime, and who have been suspected of murdering Mr. Bell. Of course, the dispatch was a hoax, for if Mr. Bell had received a speech for Bell, he would have done so or died. We all know, however, that he did not make a speech in favor of the election of Bell, but that he denounced Bell, in unmeasured terms, as a political quack, &c.

Again, our neighbor of the Democrat was imposed upon before last. He got a letter from Oldham, which he published in his paper yesterday, under the head of "The latest election news," in which he asserted that he had taken the stamp for Bell. Of course, the dispatch was a hoax, for Mr. Bell had received a speech for Bell, he would have done so or died. We all know, however, that he did not make a speech in favor of the election of Bell, but that he denounced Bell, in unmeasured terms, as a political quack, &c.

LARAVORE, Ky., Aug. 10, 1859.

Messrs. Horace, Hopkins & Co.—Gambler: I have but a moment's time to write you a line upon the present state of excitement our usually quiet and law-abiding people are now in. I have just received word that a man has been suspected of murdering the Fish family, which occurred in the same neighborhood whereupon the people have arisen in mass, captured, and are now in the act of hanging Seine, without due trial or legal offset against the said note.

THE RIVER WAS at a stand all day yesterday, with the wind 10 miles per hour blowing from the north. During the night previous, the river had risen an inch at the head of the falls, and 3 inches at Portland, with the anticipation that the river would rise quite rapidly during the day. At 10 o'clock this morning they had fallen. A light rain prevailed during the day Wednesday, and at midnight a heavy rain commenced falling, and it poured down incessantly for several hours, flooding the streets, and causing much damage. The Big Creek, which arived yesterday morning, reported Salt River a perfect sheet of water, its current sweeping entire across the Ohio.

Silver creek, just opposite the foot of the falls, was greatly swollen by the rains, sending forth a mighty stream of water, and if the rains extended to the Kentucky, we may confidently look for a rise here.

At Pittsburgh, the river continues to recede, but at Cincinnati it had risen 8 inches. At Pomeroy, W. C. Cooper, the river was swelling, with 5 feet water in the channel.

The Cumberland river, at Nashville, was again rising Wednesday, with heavy rains.

The Chancellor, Capt. Malborn, arrived from New Orleans, coming direct, and the sand bars proving no impediment to her progress. She reports the Steve Deceastor ground at Sculfield's town.

Capt. Lunn's arrival for the Green River, was expected by Messrs. Tolson & Osborne, at New Albany, yesterday evening.

The following report of the Local Inspectors refutes the charges made against Dave Dryden, Capt. Williamson, Louisville, Ky.,

August 11, 1859.

W. N. HALDEMAN, Surveyor of Customs.

Sir:—The charges brought by Capt. Edmund Williamson against David M. Dryden, before the Local Inspectors of the city of Louisville, on April 23, 1859, charging that said David M. Dryden was unskillful and incompetent as pilot and therefore should not be given a pilot's certificate to be revoked, have not been sustained.

It is very evident there is nothing doing of sufficient importance to establish a price.

Yours truly,

JOSPEH SWAGAR,
REED DAWSON,
Local Inspectors.
